

DRIVING FROM ANCONA AIRPORT TO BELLAUGELLO*

*2015 Please note the road from Ancona to Perugia is in the process of being upgraded so some information might be subject to change. I strongly suggest before setting off you check with "Via Michelin" or a similar site.

On leaving the airport turn right onto the SS 76 direction Roma Fabriano. Continue for approx. 70km. Pass by Fabriano and follow the signs for Perugia/Gubbio. The road becomes the SS 318 here.

After about a further 8km, turn off the dual carriageway for Gubbio and Fano. The junction takes you up and to the right heading towards Gubbio. Watch out here, the surface on the slip-road is bumpy.

Continue for 7km exit at Padule. At the T junction at the end of the slip-road, go right. It's kind of straight on, you pass by a light industrial estate. Continue 1km and, at the end of the truck park to the right, turn right to Perugia - Rome. There are some sharp bends in this area, so watch out.
